EVIDENCE-BASED & STRENGTH-CENTERED FAMILY ENGAGEMENT SERVICES

PRESIDENTS MESSAGE

Peter Orszag, the former director of the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) once remarked, “less than 1 percent of federal spending goes to programs and activities that we have any evidence they work.” The number is less clear for other funding entities and elsewhere. So there is much catching up to do and evidence based approaches are becoming the requirement for anything that is getting funded.

For our 11th year Joyfields Institute, working with the EBP Society and some of the best experts and practitioners committed to the evidence based movement, continues effort to address this deficiency through training, education and performance evaluation initiatives. Join us for four (4) days of comprehensive evidence based conference and workshops designed for the human services practitioner. We are really excited about this year's program designed specifically for the Justice, Human and Social Services professional. This year as you asked, gives you our customers more flexibility.

We bring you comprehensive evidence based A-to-Z workshops chuck full of what you need to get your program on the right footing and be confident what you are doing works. Select a 2-Day workshop only, or stay all 4 days to get the most out of your participation and also save. Some workshops co-occur.

For what you would spend on a 3 day program we have added an extra day of training, education and real life case examples and activities you can use immediately you return home.

But wait! This event is in the great city Miami!

How else can we make it such fun to, (a) get away, (b) get some real RNR, and (c) get the training you can't afford to miss!

Plan now to join us. And we made it easy to bring a team too. I look forward to seeing you there.

Sobem Nwoko
President

Motivational Interviewing (MI): Core Skills for Durable Behavioral Change

MI is proven to be fully compatible with various approaches as a method that helps people resolve ambivalence toward change through discovery of intrapersonal fuel by placing complete responsibility for change on the individual. Its a must have method in your tool kit.

Becoming An Evidence Based Organization: Advance Skills for Planning and Implementation

This workshop is a follow up to the Core Skills workshops on “Becoming an Evidence-Based Organization (EBO)” designed to provide support for those participants and agencies that previously completed a one or two day EBO workshop and would like assistance with EBO planning and implementation.

EVIDENCE-BASED & STRENGTH-CENTERED FAMILY ENGAGEMENT SERVICES

FAMILY GROUP DECISION MAKING, TEAMING AND CONFERENCING

Evidence-based family engagement approaches can work to strengthen families in a way that they can find immediate solutions to needs and provide long-term solutions for issues related to safety, permanence and well-being.

PROGRAM SUMMARY

Imagine you have an entire team to assist you as you provide quality interventions to the individuals and families you serve. Also, consider what it would be like if you could decrease the level of resistance you experience as you provide quality interventions.

That is what Family Group and Teaming brings to children and family services delivery. Evidence abounds proving that the use of Family Group and Family Teaming provides improved collaboration, additional supports and assessment information thus, improved outcomes. Family Group/Teaming has been used to effectively provide planning in all areas of social service interventions: Drug and Alcohol, Adult and Juvenile Probation, Child Welfare, Adult and Child Behavioral Health and Disabilities and Aging. It is used in all these disciplines because it works!

Integrating evidence-based and strength-centered policies, programs and practices must be a primary goal in all service delivery to maximize resources and their benefits for consumers. Challenging traditional practice methodologies, this workshop introduces participants to Family Group, Conferencing and Teaming as the preferred method for engaging and empowering families to plan how to resolve their concerns as well as those of the agency. The approaches provide the contextual framework for a service delivery approach that emphasizes family engagement and empowerment through the belief that families should be given the opportunity and responsibility to develop their own plans – based on the fundamental belief that no one knows a family's situation and available resources better than families themselves. The approaches for engagement are evidence-based and strength-centered and account for children, their families, unique populations, foster care settings.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Participants in this 2-day program will be in a position to gain an understanding of the workings of FGDM and Family Teaming and the stages of the process. Additionally, it will prepare them to begin planning for and working toward more successful implementation of the models. The content also delves into higher-level information associated with an FGDM meeting – primarily from the focus of the referral source.

Learn skills that will assist you in reducing resistance from the individual's, families and communities that you serve. Participants will be in a position to;

- Describe the Family Group, Conferencing, Teaming and Decision Making process;
- Understand how the process empowers individuals, families and communities to work towards positive change;
- Identify concepts, values and beliefs that are involved to drive the process;
- Understand how case management and care coordination fits;
- Understand the roles and activities of all the individuals involved in the process;
- Review the core steps necessary to implement or integrate these approaches at their agency

EVIDENCE-BASED & STRENGTH-CENTERED FAMILY ENGAGEMENT SERVICES

BECOMING AN EVIDENCE BASED ORGANIZATION-1: LEADERSHIP IN CAPACITY BUILDING AND SUSTAINABILITY

Evidence-based programs, practices and policies are becoming key approaches required of organizations to sustain them and their initiatives. According to research, the benefits from implementing evidence-based approaches vary widely based on organizational characteristics. Overall, Evidence-based Organizations (EBO's) consistently demonstrate the ability to achieve desired outcomes through effective problem-solving and informed decision-making. In doing so, they use research evidence and data to drive decisions and to develop innovative approaches to delivering services. Their overall goal is to increase the likelihood of your agency and its clients achieving desired outcomes.

MOTIVATIONAL INTERVIEWING (MI): CORE SKILLS FOR INTRINSIC BEHAVIORAL CHANGE

Program Details

Enduring client change is achievable through Motivational Interviewing (MI). MI is the powerful evidence-based method for engaging intrinsic client motivation. Clinical trials on use of MI in all areas of treatment abound with substantial outcomes for creating sustainable change in maladaptive behaviors far beyond compliance.

MI is proven to be fully compatible with Cognitive Behavioral Therapy, Moral Reconciliation Therapy, Therapeutic Community, and various other approaches as a method that helps people resolve ambivalence toward change through discovery of intrapersonal motivation by placing complete responsibility for change on the individual.

With public and private agencies under increased scrutiny to deliver on promises through evidence based practices, executives must evaluate practices, techniques and programs to improve results and financial outcomes. Motivational Interviewing has applications in various settings giving staffs skills to help their clients succeed through appropriate evidence based practices.

What We Will Cover

This program teaches foundational concepts, strategy and techniques involved in MI and how it can be developed and utilized dynamically in targeted settings. It is excellent for staffs with little or no knowledge of the MI approach as well as those already implementing the model.

Joyfields Institute MI programs are taught through presentations, video examples, instructor modeling, and practice breakout activities. Participants will recognize that many of the techniques are part of their current practice. With that recognition and the training, they will be able to begin using the techniques with more effectiveness and added fidelity to the model.

BECOMING AN EVIDENCE BASED ORGANIZATION-2: ADVANCE SKILLS FOR PLANNING AND IMPLEMENTATION

Having learned the framework for becoming an Evidence Based Organization (EBO), now let's move to the next stage and become it. Plan now to join us this winter in sunny Miami, Florida to establish your own framework for implementation.

This workshop is a follow up to the Core Skills workshops on "Becoming an Evidence-Based Organization (EBO)" designed to provide support for those participants and agencies that previously completed a one or two day EBO workshop and would like assistance with EBO planning and implementation.

It is also appropriate for agencies considering Certification as Evidence Based Organizations under the auspices of the Society for Evidence Based Professionals and Organization.

Agencies are encouraged to attend as teams of 4, 5 or more as this will help accelerate the agencies transition toward becoming a bona fide evidence based organization (EBO). Participants will be in a position to develop agency-specific strategic plans and action plans for becoming an evidence based organizations themselves (EBO).

Participants will be guided and will collaborate as a team to produce strategic and action plans that will focus on the five major components of EBO development:

- Knowledge and use of evidence-based policies, programs, and practices
- Demonstration of effective organizational leadership
- Understanding of organizational culture and use of organizational assessment
- Utilization of effective strategic planning, performance measurement, and program evaluation
- Ongoing efforts to enhance organizational capacity and sustainability

Participants will use workshop time to develop their agency-specific strategic and action plans. It is recommended that 4 to 5 workshop participants attend from each attending agency. Prior knowledge of the five major components of EBOs is expected; participants should bring along previous EBO workshop materials and have at least one laptop computer available for group use.

Problem to be Resolved and Learning Objectives for Participants:

This workshop will address the common problems associated with moving from a training environment to the implementation and evaluation of evidence-based organizational change efforts.

Participants will be given the opportunity to develop strategic and action plans for EBO development, containing:

- An EBO vision and mission
- Organizational goals and objectives, centered on the 5 key aspects of EBO development
- Action steps to be taken to carry out the strategic plan. These action steps will specify responsible individuals, time frames, and resources needed.
- In completing the above, participants also will spend time considering:
 - Intended target population(s)
 - Program(s) being offered
 - Logic and research support for existing program(s)
 - Data being collected and outcomes being assessed
 - Use of performance measurement and performance management
 - Use of scientifically rigorous program evaluation
 - Growing and sustaining an evidence-based environment

WHAT PEOPLE HAVE SAID

FAMILIES

"Because of our Family Team Conference my children were able to stay with family and I got the support I needed so someday I can take care of my kids again"

"We had a Family Group Decision Making Conference and Children's Services were no longer involved in our life - we were able to make a plan to keep the kids at home"

"Family Conferencing is just that, the family makes decisions because we know each other best"

PRACTITIONERS AND PROFESSIONALS

"The old way that we used to do business where we really intruded on people's lives - laid out what we felt were the issues and demanded change - you don't end up getting change by doing that. So I think this whole concept recognized that all families have some positives and some strengths and gives us an opportunity all around the table to recognize that - it's really strength based." Service Region Associate

"The community partnership approach with family team meetings works because the families are a part of the meeting. It's their meeting. They feel that they're making decisions and have control over their families. It empowers families." Worker, Division of Family Services

"I came into this Family Group Decision Making workshop uninterested in the material. I did not believe in its efficacy for the population I cater to in juvenile justice. I walked away following the training converted. Indeed before I left the workshop, I amicably resolved a critical matter that was close to home - me". It happened in record time. Mind blowing!" Juvenile justice worker

"I see the course as very powerful in prevention strategies. Proactive use of FGDM in working with the youth and adults can only strengthen "family" relationships and prevent the eventual need for more serious intervention", Foster Care Intervention Team Leader

"We work with a population that is often challenging to serve. With the FGDM method, I can absolutely see a way through to help clients and their families resolve issues they face - without necessarily compromising the rule of law." Probation officer

"The workshop leader was a very informative and energetic instructor. She had a unique way of exploring family engagement topics and encouraging participants to embrace the material. By far one of the best trainer's I have encountered."

"I can see how we can use FGDM components to help drive staff roles as collaborative partners with our clients and their "families". It will also help hand responsibility over to the families for solving their own problems." Foster Care Intervention Team Leader
